January 2007: Wallpaper with a palm tree beach view, Laura-Ashley-Kitsch or screaming Retro-Chic – for those who need to fight the horror vacui tastefully and can't find a solution, there is another answer. New York's Wallpaper LAB carries patterns from artists that really allow you to delve into wall decoration, for instance, with the scanning of headlines or through a silent water landscape. Unfortunately not exactly cheap: Up to fifty thousand dollars for the limited editions.
